Toying Around At Historic Farmhouse

The Wyckoff House Museum hosted its Family Day last Saturday. Located at 5816 Clarendon Road off Ralph Avenue, the museum and farm opens its doors for the monthly event. This month's event focused on toys made by children of the early 1600's. One toy called a "wheelies gig" or "buzz saw" was a favorite in colonial times and put smiles on the faces of modern-day kids and adults. Historian Cody Rae Knue was on hand to demonstrate the toys and relate a bit of early colonial history in Kings County.
