

WYCKOFF HOUSE MUSEUM

PER-DIEM EDUCATOR

Job Title: Per-Diem Educator

Reports to: Education & Outreach Coordinator

Start Date: September 2018

Position Summary:

The Wyckoff Farmhouse Museum seeks part-time per diem Educators to work throughout the 2017-2018 school year. The Educator's primary responsibility will be to teach one to three history and/or garden based school lessons a week, leading students through New York's oldest house and structure. Educators use object-based inquiry, storytelling, artifact investigation, and hands-on activities to craft dynamic lessons for each group. Educators are also required to attend at least four professional trainings per year with Senior Education Staff and outside Teaching Artists, assist at selected large scale museum events and participate in occasional evaluations.

Position Responsibilities:

- Teach curriculum-based school programs 1-3 times per a week with an emphasis on colonial life, farming, the Wyckoff family, immigration, African-American enslaved peoples, architecture, and material culture
- Lead a variety of hands-on activities including quill pen writing, butter churning and sprout planting
- Partake in Educator trainings and professional development seminars throughout the school year
- Assist in occasional large scale museum-wide events (held on weekends)

Qualifications:

The ideal candidate will have a background in history, agriculture, museum studies, arts and/or education as well as an ability to work flexibly with a team of colleagues. Candidates should possess a B.A in a related field, though candidates with an M.A or working towards an M.A are preferred. Candidates should demonstrate prior experience teaching elementary aged students in a classroom, museum or cultural institution setting.
